Ways To Give

Give Now

Besides cash or checks, you can give gifts of grain, cattle, real estate, personal property, stocks, bonds and more to benefit your favorite causes with ECCF.

Give Later

You can leave a lasting legacy by designating ECCF as the beneficiary for any dollar amount or percentage of a living will, trust, retirement plan or life insurance policy

Give Your Time

We can always use a few more helping hands! Volunteer with ECCF to help us improve our communities.

What are you waiting for?

Let's make Elk County a better place to live, together.

What's a Community Foundation Anyway?

We're a 501c3 non profit.

This means we are a charitable organization and are not run by a government entity. It also means any time you donate to one of our funds, your donation is tax deductible!

We give out grants and scholarships

Our favorite thing is giving back to the community. Grants and scholarships are just one way we do this!

Our goal is to improve the communities around us

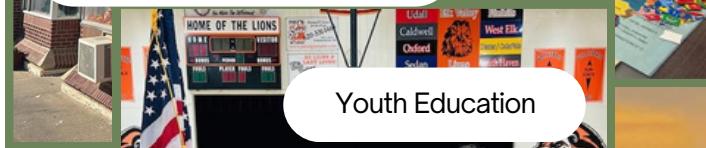

Through community service projects, outreach, and education, we are focusing our efforts on improving the communities we serve.

Did you know?

Anyone can start a fund to support any cause that's important to them!

There's no better way to match what's important to YOU with charitable, tax deductible giving.

Funds held with ECCF earn investment income!

Funds held with ECCF generally have a better return on investment than letting your money sit in a savings account, so you can make the most of your financial gift.

We can help you build a new scholarship or grow your existing one to better support local youth!
